May Day May Day! Send a search party out for Spring!

Wow how great was our style show? Awesome job!! I thought it went smoothly, too. Thanks everyone!

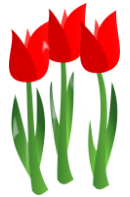

Our quarter auction needs items, so bring them & plenty of quarters! It is taco bar night. Please email Amy what you are bringing.

We will be voting on new slate of officers, and we will be reporting on the Midwest conference as well.

We are planning on our induction of new officers someplace special. So state tuned for the details.

We have no way of knowing how our actions change people. We work to uphold them, be positive, be kind, but we may never truly know how we make them feel. So keep trying to make this world a better place!

Transitions

This year when Transitions was asked which rooms they would like renovated, they told us that we have done such a great job that everything is in good condition and the residents are enjoying it. So, instead of doing renovations, we purchased a much needed television and some beds for them. They are so incredibly appreciative of all of the support Soroptimist has provided over the years.

WOW! Where has the school year gone? As we wind down the year, the dental program has been busy. We have seen many students this year in the dental unit. Dental exams, toothache exams, fillings, sealants, extractions, cleanings and fluoride treatments. I have been busy with classroom education making sure our students understand the importance of teeth and how to keep them a lifetime.

Issuing toothbrushes, dental floss and toothpaste is always a big hit with the kids. Thanks to all of you for your continued support of this much needed dental health program!

Keep Smiling! Valencia

A message from Joyce Haddox...

Many great comments on the Style Show. Everyone did a great job!! Attendance is up, donations were super! Everyone seemed to have a great time. Lynn & helpers did a super job on getting donations listed & displayed. This has always been one of the last minute times-taking jobs & it went pretty smoothly. Many people stayed late for clean-up detail. Amy is always there for us when something extra is needed & she already has a wonderful brochure on the upcoming golf outing! A few things to remember next year: need to put a ticket contact on "Save the Date Cards; Elder Beerman will be out for modeling; & several people asked me, "Where's the meatballs", Lol!! Joyce

Member Spotlight Amy Hursey

My name is Amy Hursey and I have been married to Shawn for almost 9 years. We have known each other since we were just kids! We have 2 fur-babies, Molly and Boo, who are both rescue dogs. Shawn has 3 grown children, Cory 24, Shelby 22 and Mason 19. They may be his, but I love them like they are my own! We have one sweet granddaughter, Sidney Irene, who is 18 months old.

I love to cook, travel and read. I am always busy! I have worked at the Zanesville Wastewater Plant as the Laboratory Supervisor for 26 years. I am active in our church, Faith Baptist in Belle Valley, Ohio. I serve as a ministry assistant and help teach 5th Grade girls on Wednesday nights for Awana.

I learned about Soroptimist in 2015 when I was doing a fundraiser for Women Helping Others called Kiss for a Cause. Joey Osborne directed me to the group. Molly Ross invited me to attend more meetings, then to join as a member.

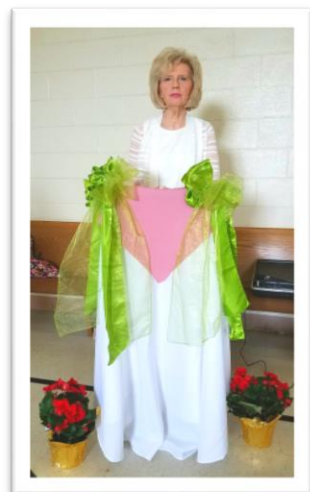

I don't think I have a single favorite project in Soroptimist. I love to serve and bless others in what ever needs doing. However, my favorite memory associated with Soroptimist is meeting Phil Sakal at WHIZ when Kim Brandfass and I were doing Live at Noon for Domestic Violence Awareness. I'm a total Phil Fan Girl!

I have met a lot people through Soroptimist and made many dear friends. I am so thankful to belong to this tribe who believes in adding value to the lives of women!

FROM SOROPTIMISTSUMMARY.ORG

Use of the Word "Disadvantaged"

You may have noticed that recently SIA started to use the phrase "disadvantaged women and girls" to describe the population we target. We began using this phrase when we realized not all our clubs and leaders were on the same page when it came to identifying the women and girls we want to help. We took our cue from the United Nations—which uses this term to describe women and girls most in need of assistance—to help educate our members, clubs and leaders. We have heard from several members that they found the use of this term offensive because it labels our target population of women and girls. It was never our intention to disrespect the amazing women and girls we serve. Your SIA Board and staff took the objections seriously and changed the phrase we use to describe our target population to: women and girls who have faced obstacles such as poverty, violence and teen pregnancy. We thank our members who took the time to bring their objections to our attention.
